

Community Profile – Hirwaun

Penaluna's Fish and Chips in Hirwaun

Hirwaun, the meaning in Welsh language as "Long Meadow" is a village and community at the north end of the Cynon Valley in the County Borough of Rhondda Cynon Taf, South Wales. It is 4 miles North West of the town of Aberdare, and comes under the Aberdare post town. The Village is on the heads of the valleys road and at the southern edge of Brecon Beacons National Park.

Hirwaun has an industrial heritage which the Hirwaun Ironworks were the centre of. After the ironworks closed coalmining became the prominent employment for the residents in Hirwaun until the late 20th century.

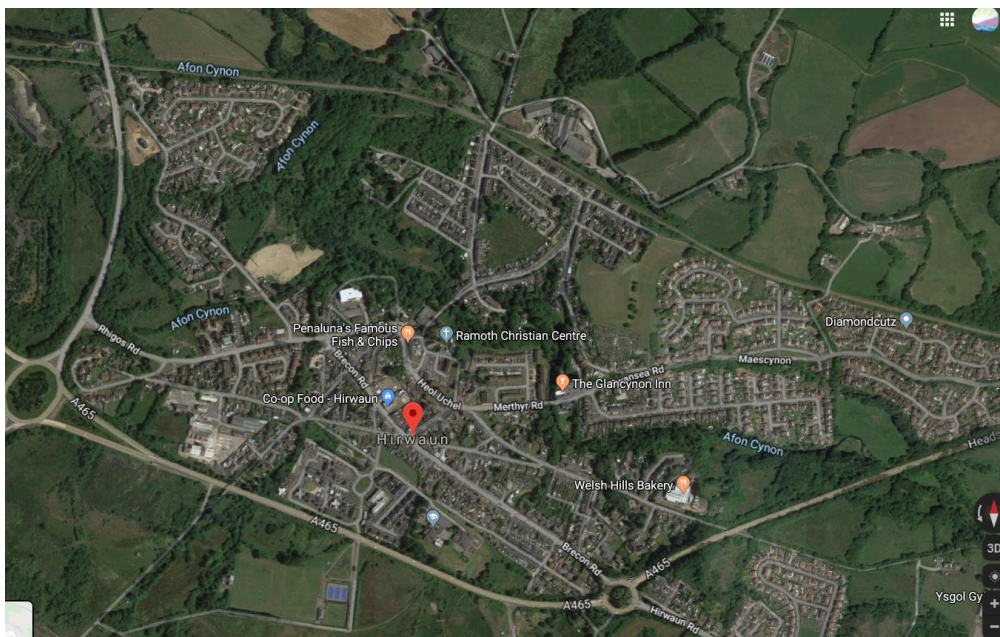

Hirwaun War Memorial

Hirwaun's forefathers fought against poverty and deprivation in the 1831 Merthyr Rising, during which a white flag drenched red by calf's blood was raised on Hirwaun Common. It was the first time the symbolic "Red Flag", a worldwide symbol of socialism, was raised in the world.

4,356 of the population in Hirwaun are of working age, 25% of which either have a long-term illness or are registered as disabled. Over 50% of the population have no qualifications in Hirwaun. The Hirwaun Village Hall is a well-used building on the high street in Hirwaun. The community council office is based at the Hall, Businesses and community groups can hire space to work. There are many clubs that run throughout the week at the Village Hall.

Hirwaun is in the 10% most deprived areas in Wales. Crime-statistics.co.uk (2019) suggest that 34% of crime in Hirwaun is categorized as anti-social behavior. The Hirwaun YMCA have a youth drop in 3 times a week which many young people from Hirwaun and the Penywaun community attend. Hirwaun YMCA, have recently offered opportunities for children to be involved in a Risky Play workshops, Young people have also been part of a project Get Cooking over the last year. The community of Hirwaun state "there is very little litter, graffiti or dog fouling, people smile and say hello when passing, it is a friendly place to live and people feel like it is not a deprived area at all and are excited about planned regeneration in the area."
